Policy Liaison

Office Name

Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy (Energy, Installations, and Environment), Department of Navy

Portfolio Summary

The Department of the Navy's Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Energy, Installations and Environment works towards enhancing combat capabilities for the warfighter and greater energy security; the acquisition and disposal of real property; construction and maintenance of installations; protecting the safety and occupational health of the military and civilian personnel; environmental protection, planning and restoration ashore and afloat; and conservation of natural and cultural resources. The Fellow would work with senior leadership and staff across a broad range of issues including natural and cultural resource protection, marine species protection, ocean pollution and prevention, and environmental technology. The Fellow would also serve as a liaison for the Office on any number of topics with the National Ocean Council, the White House, EPA, NOAA, and other Federal agencies, and lead and assist on high level ocean policy development. Specific duties can be tailored to the individual Fellow, and are cross-cutting in nature. The office is located at the Pentagon.

Expertise Desired

Willingness to learn and an ability to communicate. Position can be tailored to the strengths, weaknesses and goals of the individual Fellow. Since our office works a broad range of issues for Navy, this is usually fairly easy to do. Due to the need for the fellow to obtain an interim and final security clearance, our office can only accept US citizens and cannot accept US citizens with dual citizenship.
