

DIRECTIONS TO NOAA – Silver Spring, Maryland Campus

The NOAA Silver Spring campus is comprised of four buildings (SSMC1, SSMC2, SSMC3 and SSMC4) located at the intersection of Colesville Road and East-West Highway. It is an easy walk from the Silver Spring Metro Station (Red Line). Parking is very limited but available under the four building complex. Public lots are available in front of the Metro near Georgia Avenue.

Directions to NOAA Campus

From the Beltway

Take Beltway Exit 30-B (Route 29 South) to Silver Spring. This is Colesville Road. Follow Colesville Road in the center lane until you reach downtown Silver Spring and cross Georgia Avenue, then merge into the left lane. The next street is East-West Highway, Route 410. Make a left at the light onto East-West Highway. At the third building with the “Hand” in front, make a left into the Garage.

From the subway

Take the Red Line to Silver Spring. If you are coming from downtown Washington, DC, take the escalator steps toward the back of the train. If you’re coming South from Wheaton, take the escalator steps toward the front of the train. Continue out of the station turning toward the left. Walk under the train tracks and go to the left diagonally across the court yard between the two buildings until you reach East West-Highway. Turn to the left and walk up the street past the building with the “Hand” to the next building. Turn left onto the walkway. The Science Center/ Auditorium is located past the entrance to 1305 and behind the wave pond off to the right. (About one block from the subway station).
