What is a Sea Grant Knauss Marine Policy Fellow?

Established in 1979, the Knauss Marine Policy Fellowship provides a unique educational and professional experience to graduate students who have an interest in ocean, coastal and Great Lakes resources and in the national policy decisions affecting those resources. The Fellowship, named after one of Sea Grant's founders, former NOAA Administrator, John A. Knauss, matches highly qualified graduate students with "hosts" in the legislative and executive branch of government located in the Washington, D.C. area, for a one year paid fellowship. The fellows have Masters, PhDs, or JDs in marine, freshwater, and coastal science and policy and are experts in their fields.

What can a Sea Grant Knauss Fellow do for your office?

Fellows are more than students or interns. They are graduate students or recent graduates with PhDs, Masters, and JDs that focus on marine- or aquatic-related fields. Fellows are selected to participate in the program based on a combination of academic record, statement of career goals, recommendations and endorsements, and relevant experience. They are capable of working alongside federal partners and legislators, and are excited to learn about the process of policy-making.

Portfolio Summary *

Fellows need to understand what your office is looking for. Please list the major topics and portfolios a fellow would be working on for the year. We understand that the importance of these might change due to current events but it is very helpful for fellows to have a good idea of the type of work they will be doing. A good rule of thumb is to describe about 75% of the work, with the remaining 25% to be determined based on the expertise and interests of the fellows. Please include the following components in your summary: a brief description of your office; expected duties of the fellow; other potential duties (if applicable); examples of past fellows' projects (if applicable); the name and position of the person the
